Cc: Emily Ortiz <eortiz@labusinesscouncil.org>

Dear Councilmember,

On behalf of the Los Angeles Business Council, we would like to offer you complimentary registration to our 12th Annual Sustainability Summit. The event will be held on April 20th from 7:30am to 2:30pm at the Harold M. Williams Auditorium at the Getty Center. We would also love for you to join us at our exclusive VIP Reception being held on April 19th at the Haworth Showroom downtown.

At the VIP Reception this year we are presenting the LABC Legacy Award to Mary Nichols, chair of the California Air Resources Board for her leadership in creating California's Cap-and-Trade Program and her role in the successful passage of the program's extension, both of which have furthered California's progress in reducing emissions and development of clean energy. We will also be presenting the LABC Leadership Award to Councilman Paul Krekorian to congratulate him on the passage of his motion directing LADWP to study a pathway to achieve a 100% renewable energy portfolio.

This year's Summit will cover an array of exciting issues including: Achieving California's ambitious climate goals; re-thinking waste as a tool to combat hunger and create a sustainable energy source; how a global entrepreneur is shaping the future of transportation with flying drones; how billions of dollars in ballot measures will affect California's water infrastructure; the creation of a regionalized energy grid; and, the plan to electrify the nation's largest Port.

Confirmed and invited speakers for this year's Summit include: Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti; California Senate President Pro Tempore Kevin de Leon; Emile Haddad, Chairman & CEO of FivePoint; Myeisha Gamino, Director of Corporate Affairs & Government Relations for the Kroger Company's Ralphs Division; Matt Petersen, President & CEO of LA Cleantech Incubator; Ron Nichols, President of Southern California Edison; Yifang (Derrick) Xiong, Co-Founder & CMO of EHang, Inc.; Enrique Zaldivar, Director, City of Los Angeles Bureau of Sanitation; Michael Northrop, Program Director, Sustainable Development, Rockefeller Brothers; and many more.

If you are interested in attending, details on how to register are included below.

Dear Councilmember Cedillo,

On behalf of the Los Angeles Business Council (LABC), we are honored to invite you, as our esteemed guest to be acknowledged for your leadership at the 2018 Mayoral Housing, Transportation and Jobs Summit (MHTJS) VIP Reception on October 4th from 5:30 to 7:30 PM at Haworth's LA Showroom (444 S Flower St Suite 4800, Los Angeles, CA 90071).

The VIP Reception gives the LABC an opportunity to honor outstanding public, private, and non-profit leaders in the fields of housing, transportation and jobs. This year we will be awarding:

- Bill Witte, Chairman and CEO, Related California, with the LABC Chairman's Award for championing affordable housing policy, development, and preservation in California.
- LABC Aimco Housing Impact Award recipient LA City Councilmember David Ryu, Sarah Dusseault, Vice Chair, LAHSA, Los Angeles Housing Community & Investment Department, Los Angeles LGBT Center, and Thomas Safran & Associates for their leadership in bringing historic investment, intergenerational housing & critical services to Los Angeles
- LA County Board Supervisor Janice Hahn, the LABC Leadership Award recipient for championing affordable and homeless policy and programs to serve the Los Angeles community.

We also invite you to please join us for this year's outstanding Summit program (see attached) at UCLA's Meyer and Renee Luskin Conference Center on Friday, October 5th from 8:00am-2:30pm. This annual event has come to be regarded as one of the most effective forums to help spur transit-oriented development and sustainable workforce housing in Los Angeles for more than a decade.

Featured Speakers included: LA City Mayor Eric Garcetti; California State Attorney General Xavier Becerra; State Senator Scott Wiener; State Assemblymember David Chiu; California State Transportation Agency Secretary Brian Annis; Holland Partner Group Chairman & CEO Clyde Holland; LA Metro Deputy CEO Stephanie Wiggins; LA City Planning Director Vince Bertoni; and representatives from CBRE, Hyperloop, Lime, Lyft and more.

If you have any questions or would like to confirm your attendance, please feel free to reach out to Kandace London at klondon@labusinesscouncil.org or via phone at (310) 226-7460.

LABC | Research Report - The Affordable Housing Crisis in Los Angeles

2 messages

Dear Councilmember Cedillo,

The Los Angeles Business Council Institute is proud to release its newest report prepared by USC's Dr. Gary Painter, The Affordable Housing Crisis in Los Angeles: Impacts to LA's Fastest Growing Industries. This report is a follow-up to the LABC Institute's 2017 study authored by USC Professor Dr. Raphael Bostic, The Affordable Housing Crisis in Los Angeles: An Employer Perspective.

This report explores how employers in the fastest growing industries are responding to the region's high cost of living and lack of affordable housing near job centers and examines how these trends are impacting employees. Dr. Painter and his team of researchers surveyed eighteen employers representing over 84,000 employees in the following three industries: health care and social services; accommodation and food services; and professional, scientific and technical services.

The research and survey yielded several key findings:

- There is a general consensus amongst employers in all three industries that the high cost of living and housing in L.A. adversely affects employees and employers in the area. However, firms in the professional, scientific, and technical services industry were more likely to reflect the high cost of living in their hiring packages and were therefore more successful attracting and retaining employees.
- The majority of employers surveyed had not taken any steps to directly assist employees with housing – with the lowest wage workers receiving the least housing related assistance.
- Both the quantitative research and survey results suggest the need for intervention to support workers and businesses, in order to ensure a thriving economic base and workforce in the Los Angeles region.

The findings and a roundtable discussion led us to develop the following recommendations.

Recommendations for employers:

- Consider affordable housing as part of an overall business strategy. This includes offering housing related assistance such as homebuyer education, relocation reimbursements, mortgage assistance, and financial education programs.

- Become vocal participants in the political process and advocate for housing at all income levels.
- Build bridges between private, nonprofit, and public entities, and consider taking a coordinated approach to creating affordable housing.

Recommendations for public agencies:

- Think creatively about the way affordable housing is subsidized, using tax abatement programs or discounted ground leases to mitigate the cost needed to construct and maintain affordable units.
- Create a permanent revenue stream to finance the construction and preservation of affordable housing units, leveraging revenue sources such as cannabis taxes, Linkage Fee revenues, or Transient Occupancy Taxes (TOT).
- Streamline the rules and approval processes for affordable housing to lower costs and enable development to occur more efficiently. Similar to the streamlined development process the County of Los Angeles implemented for permanent supportive housing, county and city officials could streamline the approval process for affordable housing projects, helping to shrink the gap between what developments cost to build and what residents can afford to pay.

Working together, government and businesses can help solve L.A.'s workforce housing needs. As a start, the LABC has compiled a two-page housing resource guide to inform employers of existing resources and programs available to help their employees. We would appreciate the opportunity to discuss the report findings with you. Please contact Devon Provo at dprovo@labusinesscouncil.org for more information.

Sincerely,

Mary Leslie

LABC, GREEN TOGETHER COALITION RECEIVES $23M GRANT FROM CALIFORNIA STRATEGIC GROWTH COUNCIL

LABC, GREEN TOGETHER COALITION RECEIVES $23M GRANT FROM CALIFORNIA STRATEGIC GROWTH COUNCIL

Senator Bob Hertzberg presents on behalf of our successful Green Together Collaborative: Los Angeles Business Council, Community Partners, Pacoima Beautiful, The Trust for Public Land, GRID Alternatives, Greater Los Angeles, LA Conservation Corps, LA Cleantech Incubator and UCLA

Yesterday, the Green Together Collaborative, a partnership that includes Community Partners, Pacoima Beautiful, The Trust for Public Land, LA Business Council, GRID Alternatives Greater Los Angeles, LA Conservation Corps, LA Cleantech Incubator, UCLA and the City of Los Angeles announced that it has received a grant of $23 million from the California Strategic Growth Council's Transformative Climate Communities Program (TCC).

This grant will fund multi-benefit green infrastructure projects like parks and urban greening efforts to protect the community from heat and flooding, while also funding projects that improve clean transportation options and provide renewable energy sources. These projects will transform Pacoima into a community that lowers its carbon emissions, and is more resilient to impacts from climate change. The Green Together project also will focus on workforce development and land-use policies to mitigate against displacement of low income families.

As part of the grant, the LABC will work to create 184 new local jobs and generate between $8 - 11 million in new private investment through the installation of eight megawatts (MWs) of Feed-in Tariff (FIT) rooftop solar on multifamily apartment buildings. Those eight MWs will generate enough clean energy to power 6,000 homes and reduce GHG emissions equivalent to taking 7,300 cars off the road. In addition to rooftop solar, the grant will expand the amount of open public space available to residents of the Northeast Valley.

The TCC Program, established in 2016 by Assembly Bill 2722 (Burke), delivers substantial investments to fund the development and implementation of neighborhood-level transformative climate community plans that include multiple, coordinated greenhouse gas emissions reduction projects that provide local economic, environmental, and health benefits to disadvantaged communities – and that is what will be delivered to Pacoima with this award.

The Green Together proposal epitomizes the central goal of the TCC Program which is to demonstrate how meaningful community engagement coupled with strategic investments can reduce greenhouse gas emissions while advancing social equity, economic opportunity, and community resilience of the TCC program. Funding for the writing of this grant was made possible through a generous contribution by LAnSync and Wells Fargo.

Pacoima Solar Workshop & Networking Event

Attention Property Owners & Solar Providers

Join Councilwoman Rodriguez and LADWP to learn how to turn your roof into an asset by participating in the nation's largest rooftop solar program!

The solar Feed-in Tariff (FIT) program allows property owners to earn revenue and increase property values by generating energy through rooftop solar and selling it to the city's power grid.

This workshop will provide details for property owners including:

- commercial buildings
- small businesses
- warehouses
- multifamily apartments

Hosted in partnership with Councilwoman Monica Rodriguez

Thursday, January 24, 2019
12:00 - 2:00 pm

Good morning Raul and Manuel -

I hope this email finds you well.

Councilman Cedillo would like to facilitate a meeting to discuss a book that he plans to write with David Ayon with all 3 of you present in one room to start the conversation.

Would dinner time work for you? Just wanted to gauge what everyone's schedules are like.

Thanks in advance -

Gerald - I hope you are well and preparing for the Thanksgiving holiday. Congrats. also on the Councilmember's PLUM appointment. Over the weekend, we were informed that a USC item related to a student housing project being developed on our own land in CD 14 is most likely going to be heard on November 27th. This is a time sensitive item that we have been discussing with the Council President's office and with CD 14.

The item (CPC-2018-898-2AD-SPR) was originally passed unanimously by CPC back in mid-October, but was appealed by a community group that we have been trying to work with. The applicant is American Campus Communities, a national student housing developer, but since this project is on USC land, we are involved with assisting them thru the process. We have been working with CD 14 who was doing a great job in helping mediate the issues raised by this one group. We are definitely open to continue working with CD 14 and this organization, but we are in a time crunch to start construction in January.

Melinda is my office is also reaching out to your office to set a meeting to brief the Councilmember and yourself. Attached is the appeal and the project fact sheet. Let us know if we can come in over the next few days to discuss. My cell is also 323-537-6987 if needed.

Councilmember Price Hosts Laundry of Love

A group of USC students jumped in to volunteer at the Council District 9 Laundry of Love event. The event provided over 75 loads of free laundry to homeless and low income families from the district. In addition, the Council Office teamed up with the Los Angeles Homeless Services Authority to connect individuals to much needed services during the event.

USC Dentistry Students Treat with Toothbrushes

Halloween night wasn't all frights at Mayor Garcetti's home this year. USC students at the Herman Ostrow School of Dentistry volunteered at the Getty House to pass out toothbrushes and toothpaste to trick or treaters and promote healthy teeth amidst all the Halloween candy. Thank you to the Mayor's Office of Public Engagement for inviting us to participate.

USC Freshman Uses Technology to Aid Farmworkers

Faith Florez was all too familiar with the plight of farmworkers in the US. As a sophomore in high school, she began working on what would later become the "Calor" app. The app sends notifications to workers in the fields reminding them to take water breaks and tips on what to wear, eat, and drink based off of their local weather conditions.
